Customer Benefits:

Columbus County Farm Bureau services their customers from the main office in Whiteville and their new branch in Chadbourn. The Chairman of the Board singled out Indoff and John Kaiser at the open house for their contributions.

Project Overview:

The new 2,400 square foot building in Chadbourn needed to be functional and attractive, with as much flexibility as possible for a small building. A combination of systems furniture workstations and private offices met those needs perfectly. The interiors were designed to fit the rural setting and be timeless in color and finish.

John Kaiser, Indoff's local Partner, furnished all of the new furniture and accessories, and provided project management and installation for this project.

The furnishings and design met the expectations and the budget of the customer as stated at the outset of the project.
